MAD ABOUT NOTHING.

A man who pretends to be an intelligent farmer, writes from Ripon, to the Chicago Tribune, in the following vein of bad humor:

RIPON, Wis., Feb 2.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—I am a farmer and a wool-grower, and I am mad—mad at you, at the president, at the free traders, at the protectionists, at everybody. Wool seems to be the scapegoat and to catch it from every direction. As if we farmers, after paying taxes on nearly 4,000 different articles, including nearly everything we buy, were criminally guilty because we are supposed by some to be collecting a few shillings tax on our wool. Surely no other thing we raise is made higher by the tariff system, even if wool is, which some doubt, and surely we do pay, and pay all along the whole dreary list of things we have to buy. Can't you let us suck just one little teat while we are being bled from 4,000 pores?

But if this raid upon wool is just a trick to make farmers mad and open their eyes to the iniquities of a system for which they are themselves responsible, it may be good policy to pile it on thick, for it is the farmers who uphold the whole wicked business. They are nearly unanimous in its favor, as no other class is (not even the manufacturers.) They pay about the whole enormous cost of it, and they have votes enough to put a stop to it.

I am mad now, and if I have to continue to pay taxes to everybody I want to collect a trifle with my wool, and if I can't I shall get still madder and go in for general reduction all around.

FARMER.

The Chicago Tribune is just unfair enough and dishonest enough not to call the attention of the Ripon farmer to the error he makes in stating that there are four thousand articles that are burdened with a tariff. The Tribune knows better, but its purpose in discussing the tariff question is to cover the truth all it possibly can. If the Ripon farmer and the Chicago Tribune will take the time to refer to the commerce and navigation report for 1886, issued by democratic authority, they will find that the articles upon which duties were collected during that year, numbered only 982, or less than one-fourth of the number claimed. So if the Ripon farmer will drop the Tribune, and read some reliable newspaper, he will not have an occasion to get mad about the "burdensome tariff."

If the Ripon farmer would take the time to go into the history of the tariff he would find a good many things to commend rather than to get mad about. He would find that in 1883, when a revision of the tariff took place, under a republican administration, mind your, over 300 articles were added to the free list. He would also find that since the the war the republicans have passed twelve bills reducing duties on imported articles, while the democrats, who have had congress for ten years, have passed but two bills. The republicans have added some 2,000 articles to the free list, including tea and coffee, and it might be well for the Ripon farmer to ask through the Chicago Tribune, how many articles the democratic congresses have put on the free list.

THE RIGHT KIND OF A MEMBER

The Seventh district in this state has a member of congress who deserves the thanks of the people of the state as well as a renomination by the republicans of his district. He did something the other day which entitles him to public recognition. The New York World, which is democratic, wishes good luck to Mr. Thomas, and relates the following:

The name of Ormsby B. Thomas, of Wisconsin, is not a familiar one to readers of congressional debates, but henceforth it is entitled to honorable remembrance. Mr. Thomas has had the pluck to give a Pacific railroad lobbyist a tongue-lashing which should be a lesson to fellows of that kidney. He stopped just this side of thrashing the lobbyist; perhaps it was wise to stop just there, but if he had gone the rest of the way the public would have been well served. Every other attempt to suppress the parliamentary broker seems to have failed. Good luck to Thomas, and more power to his tongue and to his elbow!

It appears that Mr. Thomas offered a resolution in the house of representatives looking to a recovery of the unearned land grants of the Central Pacific railway. The corporation has an agent in Washington whose business is to lobby the house. The man's name is Boyd. When the resolution was offered it displeased the lobbyist, who at once charged that Mr. Thomas was a blackmailer, and that he offered the resolution in the hope that the Central Pacific would buy him off.

But Boyd did not know Thomas, and that is the reason he made a fool of himself. When the congressman heard of the slanders that Boyd was circulating, he sent for the fellow, who was brought to the door of the house of representatives, and it was there that Mr. Thomas denounced him as a scoundrel and a liar, and a corrupt lobbyist. Thomas is one of the mildest-mannered men to be found in ten states. He is as modest is a woman, and as polite as a Chesterfield; but he is as brave as a hero, and it is owing to his great presence of mind that he didn't mop the house floor with the clothes of the defamer of his character. The Milwaukee Sentinel makes this apology for Mr. Thomas:

Although everybody applauds Mr. Thomas and nobody criticises him for this scene at the very door of the house, we feel that an apology is due. Mr. Thomas should have knocked the rascal down and wiped the tiles with his carcass, after denouncing him as a scoundrel. Mr. Thomas exercised self-restraint because of his respect for the house, being a new member. But as he gets to feel a little more at home there it will pay the lobbyists to give him a wide berth. He's a bad man to slander.

That's the kind of a man to have in congress. Mr. Thomas is entitled to public gratitude, and for his splendid achievement in downing a railway lobbyist and calling him by his right name, he should be unanimously endorsed by the people of his district.

Ex-Senator Thurman has been employed by the state to assist in the prosecution of the democratic tally-sheet forgers of election returns in Ohio, and in opening the case he said:

There are no politics in this case; there are no parties here. I should be ashamed to call myself a democrat, as you all know I am, if I let my politics shield a crime like this."

That is very fine sentiment, indeed, and it pleases the mugwump editors very much. But the Milwaukee Sentinel adds:

Before fully crediting the independence of Mr. Thurman and his sensitiveness on the subject of election frauds, we should wish to see some instance where he denounced them when occupying a different position from that of a paid advocate on the side of the prosecution.

But Mr. Thurman will not do that. Did the Sentinel ever see in any of the democratic papers in Ohio a denunciation of the tally-sheet forgers? Did it ever hear any words coming from a democrat condemning the Ohio election frauds? Guess not. Even Mr. Thurman did not see fit to call the democratic scheme to steal the Ohio legislature a fraud, until a big fee was offered him by the state.

As a mugwump, the Chicago News stands at the head of the procession. Here is a grumble from that sheet: "There can be no dodging the fact that under Postmaster Judd the Chicago postoffice has lost its prestige for efficiency. The carrier system has deteriorated. A distinctly lower class of average intelligence is observable throughout. It is perceivable even in the corridors of the postoffice building. The atmosphere of the whole place has changed. An air of lounging has taken the place of the alert, business-like character of the first floor of the government building under the last administration. Clerks and carriers do not go about their work as if they appreciated that 'public office is a public trust.'" The News it may be said, is getting just what it worked for in 1884—Cleveland and reform.

The New York Post is a democratic paper. In other words, it works for democrats and opposes the republicans. In regard to Governor Hill, it says: "It will be a great triumph for decent and manly politics if Governor Hill can be completely eliminated from his party's ticket this year. His presence in the office of governor of this great state is a standing reproach to the democratic party not only here but throughout the country." The Post is a treacherous sheet, and a sort of a weather vane in politics, except that it never points the right way. Governor Hill and Mr. Cleveland represent the politics that the Post has been working for for some time.

We wanted the democratic party to follow its leader, to obey its commander, to take off the mask and have a square fight on the issue presented by the president; and he quoted from the speech of Senator Kenna where he declared that "both the internal and external tax systems will be treated as a whole." Was that the recommendation of the president? Were the democrats in congress going to attempt to play that game and then go to the country claiming the president to be a 'free trader?'—Senator Platt Speech.

But the democratic party will not take off the mask, and it dare not invite a square fight on the tariff question. The party will play the game of dodge and will straddle the issue when the campaign opens.

General Sheridan is said to be growing very tired of the constant iteration of his name in connection with the presidency, and when an acquaintance approaches the subject the soldier becomes positively rude and turns on his heel and walks away. It would be quite refreshing if certain other candidates were like Little Phil when their names are mentioned in connection with the presidency.

Senator Sawyer has introduced a bill which provides that all soldiers, who served at least ninety days in the late war, and who were honorably discharged or mustered out, shall be entitled to receive the same bounty to which they would have been entitled had their full term of enlistment been served out. The bounty was one hundred dollars.

It is a fact worth knowing, as Senator Platt said in his senate speech on free trade the other day, that in this country everybody but the dude and the millionaire can be clothed cheaper than in free-trade England.

Mr. Cleveland begins to see that there is a pretty big Hill between him and the nomination, and therefore he is in nightly consultation with his wire-workers.

BOARD OF TRADE FAILURE.

Special to the Gazette

CHICAGO, Feb. 9th.—One of the best known firms on the Chicago board of trade, that of Bensley Bros., failed at ten o'clock this morning. The firm is one of the oldest and most highly respectable houses in the city. In an interview with John R. Bensley, that gentleman said that it was hard to acknowledge the failure after thirty years of active business, but it was a fact. The failure was caused by the firm trying to befriend too many men in open accounts. Mr. Bensley was offered assistance last night to tide over the present difficulty, and was negotiating for money to help the firm permanently. The latter help did not come, and he would not accept the other.

"We have open trades in everything on the board of trade," said Mr. Bensley to a reporter this morning; 'Our largest business was in wheat, although we had quite a line in corn and oats. This is our first trouble, after going through wars, panics, bank failures and other kinds of trouble, it is hard to now lie down. We can't give figures yet."

There is considerable excitement on the board, and general sympathy is expressed.

John R. Bensley has held every office in the gift of the board, including the presidency.

CINCINNATI'S BROKEN BANK.

Vice-President De Camp Secures New Bondsmen with Difficulty.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 9.—At the Metropolitan Bank yesterday everything was very quiet. Inside the bank Inspector Saunders, with the assistance of the clerks, was getting the books and papers in shape for the final report to the Comptroller before a receiver is appointed. The sensation of the day was the surrender of Vice-President De Camp to the Government by his bondsmen, John Carlisle and Al Netter. When they signed his bond for $20,000 it was with the understanding that he would furnish two additional bondsmen the next day. This he failed to do, and was arrested just as he was about to enter his carriage at the corner of Eighth and Walnut streets, after having been in consultation with his attorney. He finally secured Henry C. Gilmour, of the Grand Hotel; Richard Smith, of the Commercial-Gazette; Fletcher De Camp and Albert Netter. The bond is for $20,000. No more arrests will be made. The grand jury meets next Tuesday, when the cases of Directors Gerke, Duckworth and Roth will be presented, and it is safe to say they will be indicted. The charge of misapplying the funds of the bank will be made against them. The exact amount used by the ring in the board of directors is $560,000.

Cashier Edwards makes a statement of the condition of the bank, showing that after all claims are paid there will remain a total of $820,000 for the stockholders or 82 per cent.

FIERCE FIGHT WITH A DOG.

Christ Hoelcher and Family, of St. Louis, Do Battle with a Big Newfoundland.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—Christ Hoelcher was nearly killed by his 2-year-old Newfoundland dog which he had raised to guard the premises at night. The brute was vicious to all except Hoelcher's family, and was kept chained during the day. On that day he was given the freedom of the butcher's back yard, and when Christ claimed the right to rule there, and enforced his claim with a kick, the dog flew at him and a terrible fight ensued for ten minutes, in which four members of the Hoelcher family took part against the dog. The brute, weighing 161 pounds, notwithstanding the shower of blows rained upon him on all sides, seemed bent upon Hoelcher's throat, and pinned the strong butcher's left arm across his chest as he gnawed to the bone. Knocked down by the powerful blows of the butcher, the dog flew back at his master and tore his breast and sides with his fangs until the pain and loss of blood weakened the man, and he fell to the ground in the power of the frenzied brute. Mrs. Hoelcher's presence of mind saved her husband. Early in the fight she had procured a butcher-knife, but was unable to use it without danger to her spouse. The blade was quickly passed to him, and in a jiffy the dog fell dead, his head nearly severed from his body. Hoelcher is in a very critical condition, his chest and neck and arms being badly lacerated. His recovery is thought to be very doubtful.

The ice in Fox river, at Elgin, Ill, is thirty inches thick. The thermometer at that place indicated 24 degrees below early yesterday morning, being a fall of 50 degrees since Tuesday noon. At Dixon, Ill., yesterday morning, the thermometer marked 27 degrees below zero.

A Convention at Kansas City Wants Indian Territory Opened.

MANY DELEGATES IN ATTENDANCE.

Addresses by Captain Couch, Governor Morehouse, of Missouri, and Other Leading Citizens—The Resolutions Adopted.

TO OPEN OKLAHOMA.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 9.—A large and important conference assembled at the Board of Trade Hall here yesterday in response to a call issued jointly by the Board of Trade and the Commercial Club to take steps with a view to securing Congressional action on the movement in favor of opening the Indian Territory to settlement. Fully 350 delegates from Kansas, Texas, Missouri and the Indian Territory were present in addition to a large number of local citizens. Mr. H. M. Holden, of the Board of Trade, called the meeting to order and made a brief speech, stating the objects of the convention and introducing Governor Moorehouse as the permanent chairman. In his opening address Governor Moorehouse spoke of the advantages possessed by the Territory and said:

"The object of this convention is, as I understand, to consider the proposition whether the Indian Territory shall be left the rude and imperfect country it is now, the home of refugees and the rendezvous for crime and criminals, or whether it shall be made perfect by the skillful hands of the workman, properly adjusted and placed eventually in the galaxy of States."

Pending the appointment of committees speeches were made by John Earlie, chief of the Ottawa tribe, and Captain Couch, the famous "Boomer." After declaring that he was in favor of a peaceable occupation of the Territory he said:

"I am in favor of opening the entire Territory. I favor the Springer bill because it will meet with less opposition. A great many Eastern men oppose the bill, believing others have rights there. If we can secure any legislation we can secure that, and then it is only a question of time until the whole Territory is opened."

After several speeches the convention adjourned to 2:30. On reassembling the Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following as the officers of the convention: President, Governor Morehouse, of Missouri; First Vice-President, George Ennis, of Lawrence, Kan.; Secretary, Fred M. Strong, of Arkansas City; Assistant Secretaries, B. Ritchie, of Kansas City, and F. M. Webster, of Lawrence. Twenty-two vice-presidents were also elected.

The Committee on Resolutions at the night session presented a report, which was accepted, advocating the opening of Indian Territory as a whole to settlement under the laws governing Territories, and appointed a committee of fifteen to present a memorial to Congress and to impress upon the members thereof the necessity of speedy action.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION IN IOWA.

A Comprehensive Measure Introduced by a Committee of the House.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 9.—The House Committee on Railroads yesterday introduced two voluminous bills, which, it is understood, were agreed upon with practical unanimity. The first applies to carrier companies' business within the State, does not fix a schedule of rates, but provides against discrimination and for reasonable charges. Passenger and freight rates must be posted publicly, and no advance shall be made without ten days' notice; copies of the schedule must be filed with the Board of Railway Commissioners; also copies of agreements with other common carriers. The Commissioners are given power to prescribe the measure of publicity necessary. Violations of the act may, under its provisions, render the company liable to the aggrieved party in three times the damage sustained, with costs of suit and attorney's fees, to be fixed by the court. Officials can be compelled to produce books and papers of their companies, and shall not be excused upon the plea of criminating themselves. The Commissioners may fix maximum rates, and can lower the same on three week's notice.

One peculiar feature of the bill is that special concessions may be granted for the protection and development of any new industry within the State. Excursions, mileage and commutation tickets are exempted from the provisions of the act; also rates to religious meetings and to railroad employes.

The second bill provides a schedule of rates, which runs from 500 miles in five-mile jumps to 200 miles, ten-mile jumps to 300 miles and twenty-mile jumps thereafter.

The Senate Goes Into Secret Session While Riddleberger Talks.

A DRAMATIC SCENE IN THE CHAMBER.

Consideration of the British Extradition Treaty Postponed Until December—The Day in the House—Other Capital Gossip.

MIDDLEBERGER SQUELCHED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—In the Senate yesterday the resolutions offered some days since by Senator Frye (Me.), instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to prepare a statement showing the political organization of the Dominion of Canada, and of the several provinces of which it is composed, and of the geographical relations sustained by them to the United States, and various other matters, was taken up and adopted.

On motion of Senator Spooner (Wis.) the bill for the relief of importers of animals for breeding purposes was taken up and passed. It directs the Secretary of the Treasury to omit all duties upon importations of animals for breeding purposes, whether imported for the importer's own use or for sale, and provided that the fact of such importation shall be a sufficient defense in any pending action.

Senators Stewart (Neb.) and Mitchell (Ore.) advocated the passage of the bill allowing the sale of certain mineral lands to aliens. Senator Stewart said that more money was probably spent in developing mines than was taken out of them, and it made no difference to the miners and to the mining community whether the capital employed was foreign or native. Senator Mitchell offered an amendment excepting the Chinese from the benefits of the bill. No action was taken on the bill.

The Senate then, at 2:10, took up the unfinished business, being the Blair Educational bill.

Senator Call (Fla.) advocated its passage. At the close of Senator Call's remarks Senator Blair (N. H.) asked that 4 o'clock today be set for a vote on the bill. Senator Plumb (Kan.) objected and suggested next Wednesday at 3 o'clock. Senator Blair accepted the suggestion and unanimous consent was given to it by the Senate.

Senator Harris (Tenn.) moved to proceed to executive business, but offered to withdraw the motion in order to have a vote on Senator Riddleberger's (Va.) resolution, providing it could be had without any discussion.

Senator Riddleberger declared that he would make no conditions as to the resolution or the treaty, and demanded the yeas and nays on the motion to go into executive session. The Senate then voted (43 to 9) to proceed to executive business, Senator Riddleberger voting in the affirmative.

Senator Riddleberger arose as the chair announced the vote, and, pale with excitement, said: "I beg pardon, sir; I arise to move a reconsideration of the vote. [Pause, during which sergeants-at-arms were clearing the galleries.] Have I not the right, sir, to move a reconsideration? I voted in the affirmative for that purpose. [Further pause.] I have the right, and no sergeant-at-arms can restrain me from——"

The closing of the doors shut off further proceedings from the public ear. It is understood that the Senator from Virginia continued his remarks, but directed them against the substance of the British treaty, and that he consumed the time until the Senate adjourned.

It is reported that the Senate, in secret session, postponed further consideration of the British extradition treaty until next December.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—On motion of Mr. Burrows (Mich.), a resolution was adopted in the House yesterday, assigning the afternoon of February 29 for the delivery of eulogistic addresses upon the life and character of the late Seth C. Moffatt, of Michigan.

During the morning hour the House resumed the consideration of the bill making bills of lading conclusive evidence in certain cases. After a long debate the bill was passed. The Speaker then appointed the following special committee on the existing labor troubles in Pennsylvania: Tillman (S. C.), Stone (Mo.), Chipman (Mich.), Anderson (Kan.), Parker (N. Y.). The House then, at 2:45, adjourned.

THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The caucus of the Democratic members of the House yesterday afternoon for the purpose of selecting representatives on the Democratic Congressional Committee resulted in the choice of the following named persons:

Alabama, James T. Jones; Arkansas, Thomas C. McRae; California, T. L. Thompson; Connecticut, R. J. Vance; Delaware, J. B. Pennington; Florida, R. H. M. Davidson; Georgia, T. W. Grimes; Illinois, R. W. Townshend; Indiana, Benjamin F. Shively; Iowa, W. I. Hayes; Kentucky, W. P. Taulbee; Louisiana, M. D. Lagan; Maryland, Barnes Compton; Michigan, S. O Fisher; Mississippi; J. M. Allen; Minnesota, J. L. McDonald; Missouri, James N. Burnes; Nebraska, J. A. McShane; New Hampshire, L. F. McKinney; New Jersey, William McAdoo; New York, L. S. Bryce; North Carolina, F. M. Simons; Ohio, Berlah Wilkins; South Carolina, Samuel Dibble; Tennessee, Benton McMillin; Texas, W. H. Martin; Virginia, C. D. Wise; West Virginia, C. E. Hogg; Wisconsin, Thomas R. Hudd; Arizona, M. A. Smith; Montana, J. K. Toole; New Mexico, A. Joseph; Utah, J. T. Caine; Washington Territory, C. S. Voorhees.

In the case of States where there are no Democratic representatives, or where the delegations failed to make collections, the full committee is granted power to fill the vacancies in representation. The first person named, Mr. Jones, of Alabama, was authorized to call the committee together for the purpose of organization.

THE LAND INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The cotton-seed oil and refined lard manufacturers are highly pleased with the long hearing had before the Senate Committee yesterday. The manufacturers of the mixed lard were closely questioned, as also the supporters of the proposition to tax compound lard and nothing was shown to indicate that the compound contained any thing deleterious. The tests and analyses of the Bostonians showed that the statements of the compound lard manufacturers were entirely correct, and that while 25 per cent of the mixture is oil and 75 per cent. stearine there was nothing objectionable in either of these as food. On the other hand, statements were made which showed this mixture is greatly preferred by consumers, and that seven-eighths of the lard now sold is of this class. It is pretty evident that the bill will never become law.

THE TARIFF BILL NOT YET READY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The report that the Tariff bill will be presented to the full Ways and Means Committee to-day and sent to the House soon is authoritatively denied. Even this day week may pass without introducing it. It has not yet been completed, and it is impossible at the present moment to name a day when it will be completed—it will probably be during the present month, however.

PROTEST AGAINST EXPORTING LIQUOR.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Rev. Mr. Cuyler and a delegation of clergymen appeared before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations yesterday and spoke against the exportation of liquor to the West Indies.

THE BRITISH EXTRADITION TREATY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Mr. Belmont (N. Y.) chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, said that no clause remitting the extradition of a citizen of the United States for any political offense is included in the British extradition treaty sent to the Senate.

THE CHINESE TREATY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Chairman Belmont states that negotiations are pending with the Chinese Government regarding the Chinese question. He understood, in fact, that a draft of the proposed treaty had been transmitted to the Chinese Minister, containing such modifications of existing treaties as would bring about the complete exclusion of that class of emigrants to which the people of the Western coast objected, and he believed there was a strong prospect that within a month we would have a treaty which would effectually dispose of the question.

UNION PACIFIC.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The report of the Government directors of the Union Pacific was filed yesterday. It urges that some sort of settlement be made by Congress as soon as possible, and protests against the present owners and managers because of the crooked work perpetrated in the past. The pending scheme for settling the debt is favored in the report, as is also the adoption of the minority report of the Senate Inquiry Committee.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—A bill has been introduced and favorably reported by the House Committee on Post-offices to provide for a Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General. The investigation which preceded the reporting of this bill furnishes a very interesting exhibit of the growth of the country since 1833, when a similar bill to relieve the First Assistant Postmaster-General was passed by creating the office of Third Assistant Postmaster General. In that period the number of post-offices has increased from 11,000 to 55,000; the extent of post routes from 118,264 miles to 473,142 miles; the revenue of the department from $3,409,323 to $48,837,609; the expenditure of the department from $3,841,765 to $53,006,194; the amount of salaries to postmasters from $512,803 to $11,922,481; the amount paid for transportation of mails from $1,633,052 to $20,805,508.

WANT PROF. DODGE RETAINED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The Commissioner of Agriculture has received numerous petitions asking that Prof. Dodge, statistician of the department, be retained. A petition of seventy-five members of the New York Cotton Exchange says: "Although many of us differ at times with him in his cotton-crop reports, yet we are fully aware that Mr. Dodge is the compiler and not the author of them, and believe him to be an honest and careful public servant."

TO GO TO THE INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Mr. William T. Coleman, of California, has been offered the American commissionership of the International exposition at Melbourne, Australia, to be held this year. Mr. Coleman's friends, however, say he will not accept.

NOTES.

It is rumored that Congressman Scott will be selected to succeed ex-Senator Barnum as Chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

The total internal revenue receipts for December, 1886, were $10,395,246, while the collections for December, 1887 were $10,680,351.

The House Committee on Territories Wednesday listened to arguments by Delegate Voorhees, of Washington Territory, and Delegate Toole, of Montana, urging the admission of those Territories into Statehood.

GLADSTONE'S RETURN.

The Great British Statesman Concludes His Visit to the Continent—Remarks on the Irish Question.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Mr. Gladstone arrived in London from the continent yesterday. He was received with cheering and hooting by an enormous crowd at Charing Cross station. On the way from Dover the train stopped at Thornecliffe, where Mr. Gladstone was presented with an address. In the course of his reply he said that in neither Europe nor America could have been seen such a painful spectacle as that observable in England, the spectacle of one nation holding down another by force. Russia would be ashamed to say of Finland what Englishmen are not ashamed to say of Ireland, that 32,000,000 of people are afraid of 5,000,000. Southern England alone created the anti-home rule majority.

Mr. Edison on His Inventions.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, was at the Grand Pacific yesterday attending a meeting of the electric companies. Mr. Edison said he had moved his laboratory to Orange, N. J. He expected to have his new phonograph ready for the market within a few weeks, and expected to see it come into every-day use before long. His system of telegraphing from moving trains was now on sixty-five miles of the Lehigh Valley railroad.

A Man Frozen in a Cake of Ice.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Employes of the steamer City of New Orleans yesterday discovered in the wheel-house the body of a man inclosed in a huge cake of ice. The piece of ice with the corpse was loaded on a wagon and taken to the morgue. The ice could not be removed by cutting without injuring the corpse, and it was put by the stove to thaw out. There is nothing about the body to establish the dead man's identity.

Illinois Central in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 9.—A special from Green Bay says it is hinted among railroad men in that vicinity that the Illinois Central Railway Company is looking with envious eyes toward the Midland Peninsular road, projected from this city to Sturgeon Bay and into the country beyond. The Illinois Central Company recently constructed a line from Chicago to Madison and desires to extend its road north into the lumber regions.

Overdue Steamers.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—The British steamers Darien, Lafra and Algitha, which sailed from Cardiff in December for Carthagena, there to load iron ore for Naylor & Co., of this city, have not been heard from, and it is feared that they have foundered.

A Missouri Poisoner Captured.

ERIE, Penn., Feb. 9.—John Kener is under arrest for the poisoning of a family named White at Greenfield Landing, Mo., last fall. He escaped from jail January 13. His accomplice, a Mrs. Forbes, is now serving a five years' term in the Missouri penitentiary.

A New Deal in the Whisky Trust.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 9.—It is ascertained that $10,000,000 was sent from New York to Peoria Tuesday to invest in whisky trust certificates at fifty-five cents on the dollar. The original holders realize twenty cents per dollar by the deal.

BURGLARS' BULLETS.

They Cause the Death of Millionaire Snell, of Chicago.

HE DISCOVERS THE MARAUDERS AT WORK.

His Shot at Them Causes Them to Return the Fire with Fatal Effect—They Make Good Their Escape—Many Arrests.

IN DEFENSE OF HIS HOME.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Burglars entered the residence of Amos J. Snell, a well-known capitalist, living at 425 Washington Boulevard, this city, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. They pried open the "Marvin" safe in Mr. Snell's private room, in the basement, and abstracted therefrom a check for $5,000 and various other valuable papers. No cash was secured, so far as known. Proceeding from the basement to the floor above, they burst open the doors that opened from the front parlor into the hall. The noise of the crashing doors aroused Mr. Snell, who was sleeping on the floor above. Seizing his revolver, he proceeded down the stairs, and seeing the light in the parlor shouted for the intruders to leave. Receiving no answer, Mr. Snell fired through the nearly-closed door. The thieves in the parlor returned the fire, two bullets striking him, one in the head and the other in the left breast in the region of the heart. The unfortunate man fell dead without a word, and the murderers made good their escape.

The noise created by the fusillade of shots awakened two female servants in the house. They claim that Mr. Snell was in the habit of talking and making considerable noise in his sleep, and they came to the conclusion that in his dreams he had arisen and had perhaps fired several shots from his revolver. They returned to their beds and resumed their slumbers, making no effort to investigate. About 6 o'clock in the morning, when the coachman came in from the stable, where he slept, to build the fires as was customary, he discovered that the residence had been entered during the night, and hastening to arouse the inmates, stumbled over the dead body of his employer. Horrified, he gave the alarm. The police authorities were notified, and have since been hard at work endeavoring to discover some clew to the perpetrators of the foul crime, but so far without definite success. Several arrests have been made, the most important being that of a young man captured last night on Clark street carrying a bundle which was found to contain six dark lanterns, six chilled nuggers, one extension bit, six slung-shots, six steel knuckles, two ounces of dynamite, two ounces of giant powder, three dirk-knives, three alarm whistles, four holsters, four thirty-eight-caliber Colt's revolvers four jimmies, six boxes of fuse matches, a lot of mail-pouch keys, a large bunch of skeleton keys and several skeleton saws.

The prisoner was turned over to Chief of Detectives Henshaw. He told that officer that his name was Charles V. W. Benedict, that he was 19 years old, and his home was in Marshalltown, Ia. He said that Frank McCord is 18 years old; George Dunn, 17 years old; Thaddeus Hall, 21 years old, and himself, all residents of Marshalltown, had agreed to form a gang of burglars, and he had been sent to this city to purchase the necessary tools with which to begin work. He was closely questioned, but firmly denied having any thing to do with the Snell murder.

The extension bit found in Benedict's possession is a new one, but bears evidence of recent use, and it tallies in size with the one used in boring the holes in the back door of Mr. Snell's residence. One revolver Benedict had upon his person, but the others were wrapped up in the bundle. The revolver in his possession was not loaded, but each chamber had in it an empty shell and the revolver showed signs of having recently been fired. There is as yet no evidence at hand to connect Benedict with the murder of Mr. Snell, but the bullets found in deceased's body were thirty-eight-caliber, which is the same size used in the empty revolver in Benedict's pocket. Chief Henshaw refuses to give his opinion in the matter, but regards the arrest of Benedict as a very fortunate occurrence.

It was rumored in police circles last night that Mr. A. J. Snell, Jr., intended offering a reward of $20,000 for the capture of the murderer, or murderers, of his father, but on being questioned concerning the truth of the report he said that he had not as yet decided upon what course to pursue. However, he did not deny that a large reward would be offered in case the city police made no discoveries. The inquest has been postponed for a week. This crime is the culmination of the work of a gang of burglars who have been committing nightly depredations in all parts of the city for the past three months to the complete discomfiture of the police force.

[James J. Snell was born in Little Falls, N. Y., in 1824, and came to Chicago in 1857. He went into the real estate business before the fire, and had accumulated a fortune estimated at $10,000,000. He owned large tracts of land in Jefferson, and also owned the Jefferson toll-road, from which he derived a large income. Mr. Snell leaves a wife, two daughters and a son. His children are all married. A couple of years ago Mr. Snell owned 400 houses on the West side. He made his money first as contractor in the construction of the Northwestern railroad.]

THREE MEN FATALLY INJURED.

Grip-Cars on Steep Hills Do Not Appear to Be Extremely Safe.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 9.—About 9 o'clock last night, as a train on the Kansas City cable railway was going up the incline from the Union depot, the grip broke. The men in charge applied the brakes as soon and as vigorously as possible, but they failed to work, and the train with its cargo of human freight dashed madly down the incline, where it collided with a stationary train which had just been filled with passengers. No one was killed outright, but three persons are believed to have been fatally injured by the accident, to-wit:

Woods Russell, hill brakeman on the train, was crushed between the cars and sustained fatal injuries; Al Sharp, of Quincy, a conductor on the Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad, probably fatally injured; H. F. Grade, gripman on the stationary train, had a thigh broken and was badly crushed; will probably die.

A Stab in the Dark.

Sometimes fails of its murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to palm off cheap and fiery tonics as identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or "equally as good," in most instances react disastrously upon the unprincipled traders upon popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The Bitters is a pure, wholesome medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and ague, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney trouble. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they, by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs it is a sedative and invigorant. Refuse all these harmful imitations,

AT SEA IN A PANIC.

A Lady's Experience in a Storm on the Briny Atlantic.

What She Did with Her Head and How It Was Nearly Detached from Her Body—A Ship Afire and the Passengers Terror-Stricken.

I had taken passage, says a lady writer in the New York Mail and Express, on the steamer Franconia, bound for Portland, Me., with my little son Leo and my maid, going by that route for a late summering in the White mountains, where the social world had taken up such an exalted station that the waiters were none other than college students, joining menial duties with recurring seasons of Latin verse and the Hebrew classics. When we steamed out of New York harbor a jocular party on the pier-head gave me the usual parting salute, in which I detected some sinister reminders of the beauties of seasickness, the dramatic incidents of a possible mid-ocean collision, or the desirability of sleeping enshrouded with life-preservers, and to tell the truth I had some misgivings that the journey was not to be without peril—for the sky was black with a gloom that did not offer any stimulation to cheerful fancies.

Our company was one of those heterogeneous assemblies generally seen on the deck of a coastwise steamship sailing to the northward at that season of the year. There were the meek bride and the sleek groom, with a year's salary on their backs; the whole family—father, mother and a bevy of young imps—bound for the White mountain hotels to prey on the disturbed slumbers of those quartered in the rickety big hotels where the bills are rendered with integers of amazing size, and the crabbed bachelor, the fashion-flier preceding northward on the annual quest for a husband, and a well-assorted gathering of New York boarding house aristocrats with loud manners and still louder attire.

It was somewhere near midnight, when all the lights were out and the crowded berths and saloons were alive only with a choral entertainment distinctly of the nasal organ, that a rude shock awoke me to a sensation that something terrible was happening or about to happen, that in line there was a lively commotion in every part of the ship. I soon discovered that the vessel was laboring in the trough of the sea; that she refused to obey her rudder, and that we were oscillating with a pendulous rapidity that made a foothold perilous if not impossible. While reflecting on the probabilities of an eternal bath I was hurled from my berth and dashed hither and thither, only to discover that the porthole fastening had been wrenched from its socket and the water was rushing in by the barrelful. What was to be done? To be carefully explicit as to detail I must be permitted to add that my woman's curiosity obtained the better of all discretion, and as the vessel came to an even keel I thrust my head out of the porthole, only to be almost blinded by the terrific flashes of lightning which darted from every quarter of the heavens, accompanied by awful peals of thunder.

I was not, of course, inclined to remain long in this position, for my terrified son was pulling at my night raiment, shouting "Mamma! mamma!" But when I attempted to retreat from the stateroom I found it impossible, because my head was securely wedged in the rim of this aperture, and my face was being swashed by the angry seas. Every effort to extricate my head from this unwonted peril seemed futile, for I was held a prisoner in the iron grasp, with no prospect of release. The pain was horrible, the vision of strangulation not unlike that, I fancy, must confront the culprit about, as the phrase goes, to be "launched into eternity." There I was held firmly in the metallic vise, my throat swelling and my tongue literally protruding, until a horrible nausea began to seize me.

During this experience a loud shout from on deck caught my ear during a temporary lull. It was the despairing shriek from many voices, male and female—"Fire! fire!" What did this portend? The lightning had struck us, had ignited the inflammable merchandise which had broken loose on deck, and the flames began to illume the stormy ocean. Chaos, I could tell, was literally reigning on board the Franconia, and no outcry of mine could be heard. While the ship was laboring heavily, however, I made one desperate effort for release, assisted by my frightened maid, and a favoring lurch supported the endeavor, and I fell back in a dead faint. Recovering consciousness, I found myself on deck surrounded by a terrified and pallid group near the wheel, while the sailors were at quarters, steadily and heroically fighting the flames. It was altogether a dismal scene, and yet at such moments I have often noticed there is the inevitable ludicrous feature. Hovering over me with the scantiest nocturnal apparel was the true type of the 'Way downeast Yankee matron, who desired some converse with me.

"Are you better, dear?" she ventured.

I felt of my lacerated throat and mumbled something.

"Ah! ain't it awful? We'll never get there alive. I wouldn't care so much, either, if I hadn't had a quarrel with my husband, John, and I didn't leave him my address. I just sailed away for Bangor in a little huff, you know, and told him nothing. So here we are all to die. Mercy! what shall I do?"

Now it was this little touch which restored me to good nature with myself. To me at that particular moment it was more exquisitely funny than any several chapters of "Pickwick" I can recall, for this and other expressions revealed a domestic comedy amusing even in the midst of the trying ordeal of that August night, when there was really little hope in the air. Albeit there were many humorous sides to the two hours of terror on the dark night, not dissimilar, perhaps, to those on other occasions of panic.

Before the danger was over half a dozen equally ludicrous incidents occurred. The strange and picturesque toilets made in such an emergency—not with an idea either of symmetry or beauty; the prominence of personal weaknesses and peculiarities, the almost universal selfishness, the absolute thinking of one's own safety so conspicuous in every facial expression—those and other manifold attributes of intense mental anguish and emotional bewilderment produced quite as much wonderment to my fevered brain as the actualities of the direful situation itself. Meanwhile the sailors conquered the fires, the panic was allayed and I returned to sleep in my damp stateroom.

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by Cuticura Remedies when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finlay (to whom I shall ever feel grateful) spoke to me about Cuticura, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the state. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John P. SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best known remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your Cuticura Remedies. Got her a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles, and now she is a well woman to-day. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful Cuticura Remedies. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your Cuticura Remedies far or near.

Sneezing Catarrh

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headache—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

Who is Your Best Friend?

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair, honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If you are troubled with Heartburn, Dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Biliousness, Indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

MAGNOLIA.

—Died, at her home in Magnolia, Feb. 1st, of pneumonia, Mrs. Mary, wife of John Needham, aged about fifty three years. Diseased was beloved by all who knew her, a good wife and faithful loving mother. She leaves a husband, four boys and three girls to mourn her death. She was confined to her bed about ten days but her case was not thought to be dangerous until the day before death when Dr. Fox was telegraphed for, also her sister, Mrs. Derry, and her two sons Willie and Pete, who were in Chicago. They arrived in time to be recognized by the dying mother and sister. Everything that human skill could do was done, but nothing availed. The case seems doubly sad as one of her sons, Tommy, is very low with the same disease and does not know of his mother's death. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church in Albany on Friday, Father Kelly officiating after which the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery in that place. Deceased was born in the county Clare, Ireland, and was fifty-three years of age. She came to America in 1853 and settled in Rensselaer county, New York, where she was married to Mr. Needham. She came to Wisconsin with her husband and settled in Magnolia in 1857, where she resided until her death. Mrs. Needham was a kind and loving wife and mother and her death will be mourned by all who knew her.

Home is not home since mother is not there,
Dark is her room, empty is her chair.
Now will she rest from all sorrow and care
In that city so fair.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began to take Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jessie Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I would have died of lung troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at F. Sherer & Co's drug store.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure.

—"Dear Sir—We understand that Janesville is about to build a $200,000 hospital, and would like to submit a proposition for the steam and gas fitting." This was the letter received by Secretary Heimstreet, from a prominent firm of Milwaukee plumbers. Bates are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Mattie Miles, of Janesville, where they expect to remain a couple of weeks at least, and possibly a couple of months. Mr. Delbert Bullard and family occupying their place during their absence. Mrs. Bullard, being their daughter, and with her family recently burned out of her own home, this arrangement makes it a convenient place for them to live while rebuilding, and Mr. and Mrs. B. an opportunity to visit their daughter in Janesville."

—The following is from a Washington dispatch published in this morning's Milwaukee Sentinel, and directly relates to the suit now pending in the U. S. court at Madison in which the Galbraith Brothers of this city are defendants. The dispatch reads:—"On motion of Mr. Spooner the bill for the relief of importers of animals for breeding purposes in certain cases was passed. It directs the secretary of the treasury to omit all duties upon importation of animals for breeding purposes, whether imported for the importers' own use or for sale; and provides that the fact of such importation shall be a sufficient defense in any pending action.

"The greatest cure on earth for pain, Salvation Oil, sing the refrain."
"You out to-day, my friend, in this cold wind? I thought you were sick in bed with a cold." He said nothing but smiled a jolly smile, and led me to the apothecary's shop, and pointing to a big advertisement of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, said: "Thereby hangs the tale; that tells the story."

THE ALPINE CHOIR.

A Large but Chilly Audience Listens to Last Night's Concert.

People who stayed away from the concert last evening missed two things: First a concert of rare merit, and second, two hours of suffering in a room that was abominably cold. The mercury must have been above zero, but overcoats, fur gloves and our muffs were not uncomfortable. Rigid economy is doubtless necessary to a fortune, but the public have some rights which should be regarded. Among these rights at a place of public amusement is heat. The hospital committee should not be held responsible for the lack of this comfort which they paid for last night, but failed to get.

The concert was of a high order and thoroughly appreciated by an audience that comfortably filled the hall. The Alpine choir is composed of four ladies and three gentlemen, representing seven artists of rare merit. They appear in Swedish costume which, while plain, is an attractive feature.

Miss Lilly Schiller, known as the "Swedish Nightingale," possesses a rich, well cultivated voice, and her selections were well rendered.

Miss Heckell has a contralto voice of unusual range and volume that was displayed to the best advantage in her "yodelling" songs, which captured the audience.

Miss Andree also has a fine contralto voice and her instrumental work on the zither and mandolin was thoroughly appreciated.

Miss Major sang as a solo "The Maid of the Mill," in a manner that captured the audience. She responded to an encore with another selection, equally acceptable. Miss Major has a contralto voice, of great range and flexibility.

Herr George Phister, the tenor, and Herr Hans Holans, the basso and guitarist, both rank high.

Herr Joseph Pitzinger handles the Alpine violin and other Swedish instruments as only an expert can. His accompaniments as well as his solo work were remarkably fine.

The company throughout is a strong one, and enjoys a well-merited reputation. While their selections last evening were many of them melodies that would not rank as a high order of artistic music, they were rendered in a manner that widened the fact of thorough cultivation, and the programme was extremely popular and much enjoyed by an appreciative audience. Should the Alpine Choir visit Janesville again they may be assured of a cordial welcome. The city hospital is ahead on the concert, just the amount of profit has not been reported.

NINETY LONG DAYS.

This Is Judge Patterson's Pet Tramp Sentence.

Since Judge Patterson began dealing out to the tramps sentences of "three months in the county jail" the municipal court has become unusually quiet.

A ninety day sentence at this time of year means confinement until well along into the warm weather. This is something that the average "tie tourist" abhors. He is willing enough to go to jail as long as the thermometer hovers around zero—in fact he would rather go than not. A well-warmed jail with plenty of rations and nothing to do but swap fish stories with companions, is his picture of an ideal winter existence.

But in summer it is different. Then his desire for a change of scene is manifested and he becomes anxious to "move on". He can find odd jobs enough to keep up the supply of whisky and tobacco and this alone, according to his views, would make life one continual picnic, without saying anything of the "fun" to be had along the road.

Therefore when the United Brotherhood heard that Judge Patterson's sentences were growing so inconveniently long, they decided to give Janesville the cold shoulder. The result has been apparent, even to the naked eye. Since the change was made commitments have become surprisingly few, one officer declaring that his fees for two months past have amounted to only a few cents over six dollars.

THE CITY HOSPITAL

To be Located in the First Ward.

The board of directors of the city hospital met this afternoon and decided to lease for three years the large doublehouse on Mineral Point avenue. The house has been put in thorough repair by the owner, Mr. F. M. Hibbard. The rent to be paid is $250 a year. The house will be formally opened in the near future, and an effort made to furnish it largely by donations. With such a building Janesville should have a city hospital second to none in the state.

The following standing committees were appointed:

A BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE.

The Reception of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Valentine Last Evening.

Half past six was the hour chosen by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Valentine for their reception last evening. There was no mistaking the place for lights shone from each of the Armory windows, and at the Milwaukee street entrance a score of carriages were rolling up to deposit their burdens.

The company that gathered was the first to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Valentine since the death of Mrs. Valentine's mother, almost four years ago; and included fully two hundred of the most prominent society people of the city, besides several from out of town. Among those noticed were Miss Kinzie, of Chicago; Miss Mattie Mack, of Brodhead, and Mr. Charles Rhineberger, of Winona, Minnesota. The scene on the floor of the hall was a brilliant one. There were many exquisite toilets; and quite a number of the gentlemen appeared in full dress. The hostess, Mrs. Valentine, was richly attired in black velvet and silk, with diamond ornaments; while Miss Lewis, who assisted her in the reception of the guests, looked unusually charming in a costume of white surah.

Supper was served soon after the company had assembled. The menu, which was entirely in charge of the well-known Milwaukee caterer, Miss Lindhart, was irreproachable, and elicited many compliments. While part of the guests were at the table, the remainder posed for the time being as disciples of Terpsichore and kept time with flying feet to the music of Anderson's orchestra; or gathered about the card tables that stood along the sides of the hall. Up-stairs a cozy retreat was offered to the gentlemen who sought inspiration from the fragrant Havana. In fact nothing that could add to the evening's enjoyment was left undone. Not until a late hour did the guests begin to disperse. All united in pronouncing the affair a success in every way, and one that might well be set down as a notable event in the social history of the city.

THE MASQUE BALL

The committee having in charge the annual masquerade of the Janesville Concordia Society, to be given at the Riverside rink next Tuesday evening, announce the following as among the leading features of the ball. The fun will commence at seven o'clock, and continue until all are satisfied.

"Columbia—living picture, by young ladies of the society.

"Barber of Seville"—comic representation of Dr. Eisenbarth—by members of the society.

Lapland Family—imported.

Traveling Tailor Show from Boston.

Minstrels—home talent.

"Watch on the Rhein"—by members and ladies.

"Gambrinus," King of Beer, by beer drinkers.

By special request, the bear that ate the Angleworm Club's best dog at their last hunt, will be exhibited.

Sitting Bull and his tribe of savages have been engaged to show themselves.

The Prince and Princess Carnival will lead the grand march and a general jollification will follow. Fun for all is guaranteed. Patrol will be ordered out for those who do not attend, so be sure and come.

THE COMING HEAT.

The question of heat is constantly commanding attention and experiments are being made in the various systems of heating with a view to economy and a satisfactory service. It has long since been demonstrated that steam is preferable to hot air.

During the past few months the system of hot water has been thoroughly tested for house heating purposes, with the most satisfactory results. The firm of Mills Bros., on River street, have fitted up their store with the Florida system of hot water heating. After a month's trial they are prepared to report.

The boiler is a self feed, requiring no more attention than an ordinary stove, it is supplied with the Bulz heat regulator which includes a motor connected with a little divice known as a thermo stat. The latter is a thermometer and regulator combined and is so nicely adjusted that an even temperature can be maintained. An electric bell placed in any part of the house indicates by persistent ringing, when the fire becomes low, and needs immediate attention. The whole outfit is complete, and will be thoroughly appreciated by those who are interested in the best system yet discovered for house and store heating. The Florida boiler is recognized as one of the best for steam heating. It has no equal as a hot water heater.

The advantage of hot water over steam is in the matter of economy, with the steam heating system, steam is necessary to the smallest amount of heat. This means a steady fire, but with the hot water heat is produced as soon as the water is warm and a slow fire will keep it in circulation producing the same results as steam with half the amount of fire. The system as in operation at Mills Bros. is well worth examining, and the public are invited to call and see it. The firm have recently secured the agency for the Durham system of house drainage which is recognized as the best.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 24 degrees below zero. Clear with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 11 degrees below zero. Clear with northwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 8 and 38 degrees above zero.

Western Passengers.

Western passengers should bear in mind that the Chicago & Northwestern railway is the only road furnishing a direct outlet, without tedious delays and lay-overs, between Janesville and Council Bluffs, Denver and all Colorado and California points.

The train leaving Janesville at 12:05 p. m. makes direct connections at De Kalb with the Northwestern main line train running through to Council Bluffs without change, and making direct connections there for all points west and southwest.

Full information can be obtained by applying to C. A. Potter, agent, Janesville.

COLOMBIAN SCHOOLS.

Peculiar Educational Methods Prevailing in South America.

An American lady, Mrs. Bernard Whitman, has been describing, in "Lend-a-Hand," the schools of Bogota, the capital of our namesake, the United States of Colombia. The city has now nearly a hundred thousand inhabitants, and, being over eight thousand feet above the level of the sea, it enjoys a climate similar to what the climate of New England would be if the year consisted of twelve Septembers. The boys of Bogota go to school at six in the morning, after a breakfast of a roll and a cup of coffee.

First, they assemble in the school chapel, or in the nearest parish church, for the early mass service. The religious ceremony lasts about half an hour. Then they march into the school-room. This first session continues until ten o'clock, when there is an intermission of an hour for the second breakfast, which consists of soup, generally bad, fried meat, boiled potatoes, fried plantains, fried eggs and rich, thick chocolate—not a suitable meal for a student.

At boarding-school there is no conversation at breakfast, but instead one of the teachers reads aloud from the "Lives of the Saints." At eleven the bell rings again, and school continues until dinner-time which is three o'clock. The boys now enjoy an interval of two hours, during which they have their dinner, a meal that differs from breakfast only in being a little more profuse, and in ending with cakes, jelly and preserves. At five o'clock the merciless bell again summons the boys to the school-room, where they remain until seven, and then go home for good, making ten hours of school in all. Such a lengthened period of confinement would soon kill the boys, if there were not mitigating circumstances. Much of what they call study is merely the mindless repetition of words in a loud voice, as they walk up and down in the room, or in a corridor outside. The boy is regarded as the best student who studies loudest, and therefore those who have an ambition to stand well in the estimation of their teachers and their friends walk up and down, shouting their lessons at the top of their voices.

The post-office of Bogota is in a building which was formerly an extensive church, with a large monastery connected with it, and this still retains its broad corridors and walks. Here may be seen and heard numbers of boys from an adjacent school, striding up and down, roaring their lessons, to the serious disturbance of the public. The teachers have another resource against the tedious length of the school-day. As they sit in their seats of authority, they hear the lessons and smoke at the same time. Even the boys occasionally indulge in smoking during school-hours, though, as a rule, it is not permitted. Lady teachers smoke continually out of school. "They are rarely seen without a cigar in their mouths," says Mrs. Whitman. Our schools have their defects, but, upon the whole, we are not disposed to change school systems with the United States of Colombia.—Youth's Companion.

NO AMOUNT of wealth sets one free from the obligation to work—in a world the God of which is ever working. He who works not has not yet discovered what God made him for, and is a false note in the orchestra of the universe.—George MacDonald.

THE happiness of love is in action; its test is what one is willing to do for others.—Ben Hur.

THE total value of all merchandise imported during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1887, was $692,319,768, of which $456,-698,631 was received at New York. In addition to this there was an importation of bullion and coin valued at $60,170,792. Of the merchandise, the value of the sugar and molasses imported was $83,780,670; of coffee, $56,347,600; of teas, $16,771,802; of woolen manufactures, $43,053,895; wool, $16,424,-497; tobacco and its manufactures, $12,176,-463.

THE export of American turkeys at Christmas season to the English market increases each year. Recently about seventy tons of Canadian turkeys were started for New York by steamer for Liverpool and London. Many heavy, tame, bronze turkeys in feather have been shipped as wild, but the delusion is losing ground in England as well as Canadian markets. The difference between the claws and bills of genuine wild turkeys and those of farm-raised breeds is distinct.

LARGE sums have been sent back to the United Kingdom to the relatives and friends of emigrants who have gained homes in the United States. From 1848 to 1855, both years inclusive, there was forwarded from America through certain banks and mercantile houses £31,018,587. In the six years ending with 1885 the contributions were greatly increased, the annual average being £1,485,034. A great deal of money has reached Ireland from America without going through the hands of bankers. The average annual amount remitted from the Australian colonies since 1875 has been only £37,800.

New Industry for Iowa.

MUSCATINE, Ia., Feb. 9.—The Business Men's Association of Muscatine, Ia., is looking into the matter of beet sugar. The soil is regarded as particularly good for beet raising, and a company is said to be ready to invest $400,000 in the enterprise. It is also proposed to ask Congress for an experimental station similar to that in Kansas, and to make provisions for a bounty for sugar made. A committee has the subject in hand.

To Prepare for the Convention.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—There will be a meeting in this city this evening of the sub-committee of the Republican National Committee to perfect arrangements for the National Convention. B. F. Jones chairman of the National Committee, will not be present, business detaining him at home. The chairman of the sub-committee, J. S. Clarkson, of Des Moines, will preside at the meeting.

Michigan's Gold Mine.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Feb. 9.—It is claimed that in the "Gingrass Forty" gold mine, north of here, a new discovery of ore has been made yielding $800.50 in gold and $148 in silver to the ton. Three parties claim the mine, one of which is the Michigan Gold Company, composed of Chicago and Cleveland capitalists, and extensive suits over the property are certain.

Score of the Pedestrians.

Seizure of Smuggled Opium.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 9.—United States customs officials Tuesday night captured $25,000 worth of opium which was being smuggled across the boundary line at Redwood. The smuggler and a livery-stable keeper who accompanied him were arrested.

In the Sheriff's Hands.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Feb. 9.—The Mueller & Ascherman Manufacturing Company of this city, makers of washing machines, went into the sheriff's hands Wednesday on the foreclosure of mortgages aggregating $33,-000. Capital stock of the company is $200,-000.

JOHNSTOWN.

—Several of the planters are yet stripping tobacco.

—Mr. Decius Fletcher was the lucky guesser on a bottle of pop corn, and won the box of cigars, but the guessers all had a smoke.

—C. A. Carter came around on Saturday evening on a visit at his old home at A. M. Carter's. His present home is at 1805 Clyborne street, Milwaukee.

—The Peak Family, from Pike's Peak, drew a crowded house at the Center on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Handy, from England, presided at the organ, and gave a glorious song at the close.

—The pitch holes on the Milwaukee road are so bad that our stage, after leaving the mail at Mt. Zion, goes south on to the middle road, two miles farther, to get to Janesville. Why don't the road masters break out a new road, as people are in danger of their lives to ride on the road?

—In 1844 John A. Seger, then a young man from New Jersey, came to this town in company with V. M. Kauell and opened the first store of goods in town in a small building now used for stripping tobacco. He married his wife here who was the daughter of Jacob Rogers, one of the first settlers. He represented this district in the legislature in 1850 and two years later moved to Milwaukee where he held city offices for a number of years. Himself and his two boys were in the war of the Rebellion and are all members of the Grand Army of the Republic. In 1870 he settled in Cawker City, Kansas, and was the first postmaster of that city and afterward clerk of the courts for several years at that place. The late papers give an account of his death. He was a Free Mason and was buried by the Old Settler's Club of Cawker City. He was a noble fellow, a social and genial companion and a particular friend of the writer.

EMERALD GROVE.

—Mrs. Olds, of Clinton, has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Louisa Oueney.

—The country of the roads, especially those most traveled, are full of pitch-holes that are dangerous. Pathmasters ought to give attention to them.

—The wood chuck did not see his shadow on Candlemas day and if there is any truth in signs it presages mild weather the rest of the winter.

—Word was received a few days since announcing the death of Mrs. Dr. Seeber of Orange, California, on January 28th. Her disease was consumption, from which had been a sufferer for three or four year. She was well known here, and her friends will be pained to learn of her death.

—Mr. Pollay, the new butcher, has moved his family here and taken possession. He began work in his line this week.

—The far-famed Peak Sisters gave an entertainment in the church last week Wednesday, to a full house. The talent was good, as were also the costumes. It was a financial and social success. The proceeds were over $20. We understand it was repeated at Lima to a fair audience on Friday evening.

EVANSVILLE.

—More snow and more pitch-holes in the road.

—Mrs. James Gillies, who has been quite sick is improving.

—A few loads of tobacco are being delivered to our local dealers.

—Don't fail to hear the best concert of the season next Saturday night, the 11th.

My family think very highly of Dr Seth Arnold's Cough Killer.

O. W. GARFIELD, Nantick, Mass.

FOOTVILLE.

—Last Sunday Mrs. Nettie Cory left on the afternoon train for Chicago, where she will spend a few weeks with her brother, Dr. A. F. Snyder, of that place.

—Mr. Frank Braden, who has been visiting his parents in this place returned to his home in Waukesha last week.

—D. O. Silverthorn, operator at Rugby Junction, is enjoying a short vacation at his home here. Dannie has been absent nearly a year, going first to Ashland where he was employed as operator on the Wisconsin Central Line Ore docks, which position he held until August. Then he resigned, with the intention of spending a few weeks at his home, but scarcely had he reached home, when a message came for him to go immediately to Rugby Junction, where he has been until the present time. This speaks well for Dannie, who is as yet only 17 years of age.

—The Literary meeting held at the residence of Mr. Frank Wells on Wednesday evening of last week was a very successful and interesting one there being a large number present, and a good programme presented. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening of this week, at the residence of Dr. Braden.

—The Leap Year social at Mr. S. F. Wallihan's last Friday evening was not very largely attended, and so it has been decided to have a Japanese social at the same place on Friday evening of this week. All invited.

—Wm. Dean returned home last week from Ohio, where he went some months ago to place his little boy under medical treatment. He is much benefited by the treatment.

—A merry party of young people from the Center school, and also from our own school, gathered at the residence of Mrs. M. M. Snyder, on Friday evening of last week, the occasion being a party given in honor of Mr. George W. Snyder, principal in the school here, and formerly teacher in the Center school. The pupils of the latter planned a surprise for him. The evening was spent in social intercourse, enlivened by music, games, etc. At a late hour the young people began to disperse, and each returned to their homes feeling that they had spent a very pleasant evening. Geo. is an excellent teacher, and wins the love and esteem of the pupils wherever he has been engaged in the work.

—Mrs. Norton returned home last week, her mother and niece accompanying her.

—It is reported that Miss Mamie Ryan, who has been attending school in Janesville for the past year, is very sick in that city.

I, Daniel Shimeall notifies all parties not to trust my son Earl Shimeall, as I have given him his time since June, 1884, and will pay no debts contracted by him, SELF-INTEREST.

The appeals which are sometimes made to the public to trade at home, to patronize those who patronize them, to sustain home industry, are almost pathetic—we believe in sustaining home industry just so far as it can and does serve us better than we can do elsewhere. This and this only is the only ground on which we make a bid for your trade on custom made CLOTHING this Spring. We keep better goods for the same or less prices than can be purchased in other cities in or out of the State. We trim and make them in the most thorough manner. Our fits and styles are conceded to be unsurpassed. Please call and examine new spring styles just in.
